

WHERE ART MEETS MIXOLOGY

Discover six signature cocktails inspired by British artist Claire Luxton's evocative artwork, where each drink transforms poetry and artistic expression into liquid form.

Just a Squeeze

25 Red Herring

A bright, citrus embrace softened by silk-smooth foam – refreshing, playful, and irresistibly inviting.

Inspiration: Inspired by the artwork's reflection on fleeting intimacy — a reminder that even the smallest touch can leave a lasting imprint.

Smoky whispers of mezcal entwined with sweet vermouth and decadent chocolate – a mystery worth solving.

Inspiration: From the art's tale of distraction and misdirection — a drink that invites you to question what's real, and what's the smokescreen.

How Does Your Garden Grow

25 Unravel

25

Crisp vodka and elderflower bloom with basil's freshness – a tall glass of floral temptation.

Inspiration: Drawn from the poem's metaphor of slow, unseen growth — celebrating patience, nurture, and the beauty that blooms in its own time.

Silky coconut embraces bright lime and delicate elderflower, unwrapping layers of pleasure with each taste.

Inspiration: Inspired by the idea of pulling at a single thread — revealing hidden layers, flaws turned into beauty, and vulnerability transformed into art.

The Poet's Wife

25 S.W.A.L.K.

25

Velvety aged rum caressed by fragrant rose and kissed with tropical pineapple – a seduction in every sip.

Inspiration: Echoes the muse behind the art — eternal love, quiet devotion, and the timeless romance of a poet's greatest inspiration.

Dark and alluring, with ripe berries, velvet cream, and a final kiss of crimson powder.
